What to do

AALTO-CENTRE

The administrative and cultural center of Seinäjoki is one of the most substantial works of architect Alvar Aalto. The center, which has an influential and timeless design language, was mainly completed between the years 1960–1968 and is comprised out of six buildings. The first to be built was the church, Lakeuden Risti (Cross of the Plains church). The last to be built was the theater building in 1987. Seinäjoki is where you have the chance to go and admire this wonderful architectural whole and rare group of buildings – rare both on Finnish and global scale.

APILA LIBRARY

B Built in 2012, this award-winning new library is one of the most spectacular libraries in Finland. The library has been designed by the architecture office JKMM's architects with Asmo Jaaksi as the Chief Architect. The new library is connected to the old renovated library with an underground gateway.

HIKING TRAILS

Seinäjoki is a sports and exercise city. Gorgeous hiking trails are located around the Jouppilanvuori and Lake Kyrköjärvi terrains. Both areas also have unobstructed routes.

T Jouppilanvuori has trails of different lengths and lean-tos. A good starting point is the parking area located on top of Jouppilanvuori.

P In the terrains of Lake Kyrköjärvi, you can hike in a primeval forest and camp in attractive lean-tos surrounded by beautiful lake views. The terrain includes good bike trails leading all the way to Ilmajoki.

Y In Paukaneva you get to hike both unobstructed trails, as well as the renewed duckboard trails, and hike to the bird observation tower. There is a starting point at, for example, Heikkilä, which is located by the wayside of Vaasantie.
